

Award-winning photographer Darren Soh trained as a sociologist and once contemplated full time academia but realised he much prefers creating photographs than writing about them.

He is most happy when making images, whether it is for himself or for clients from Singapore and around the world.

Darren is based in Singapore and available for work around Asia.

Darren is also a contributing photographer for Travel+Leisure South East Asia and a member of Young Photographers United (YPU). His portfolio on YPU can be viewed at <http://photographer.ypu.org/darrensoh>

In 2009, Darren was selected by Photo District News (PDN) Magazine to be one of PDN's 30 New and Emerging Photographers to watch.

Selected images from Darren's portfolio are available as limited edition fine art prints. For more details, please contact him directly.
